Vol. 22, No. 6

June, 1968

Board of Directors Meeting, June 3, 1968

Held at the Home of Don Mack Dalton, Pleasant Grove, Utah 7:20 p.m.

Present:

Don Mack Dalton
Harold H. Smith

J. Fish Smith
Vivian Smith (guest)
Oliver R. Smith

M.W. Smith
Virginia B. Peterson
Robert J. Smith

Prayer: Robert J. Smith

Minutes of meetings of March 16, 1968 and April 10, 1968 were read and approved.

Items of business discussed were:

1. Don Mack Dalton welcomed the group to his home.
2. Don Mack indicated that he had heard from some students at BYU of their desire to associate and to get acquainted with each other. He emphasized the need to keep the Cousins' Club operative as long as possible because with each generation the bonds become more removed.
3. Don Mack reported that he had written a letter to Southern Lumber Company suggesting that they might cancel the $12.64 bill for materials as a contribution toward the restored home in Parowan. He has received no reply, so it is assumed that they accepted the suggestion.
4. M.W. Smith reported that he had paid $52.56 interest on the family note on May 27, 1968 and that on April 26, 1968, he had paid $400 on the principal of the note, reducing it to $2,600. He further reported that the bank balance for the organization was $271.60.
5. Don Mack read a letter he had written to Dr. A. Marion Smith indicating approval of the plaque wording and the acceptance of the bill as an obligation of the Jesse N. Smith Family Association. He also encouraged Marion to collect money in Arizona. After discussion, it was suggested that Don Mack write another letter informing Marion that all funds should be sent to the treasurer for accounting and control. A check for $100.00 toward the $288.16 on the plaque was written out for inclusion with the letter.
6. It was suggested that we should give further information and publicity to the seven -in-laws (second generation) who are still living. The Kinsman might carry news items about them, as well as the surviving second generation family members.

7. Don Mack reported he had visited or corresponded with a large number of cities in Utah County - Provo, Payson, Springville, Spanish Fork, Lehi, American Fork- making inquiry about old homes. He found there was a home in Provo built in 1854 which was still standing and in use. This means the Parowan home isn't the oldest home south of Salt Lake City, but it is the oldest home in a large area of Utah.

8. Assignments were continued for Harold H. Smith and Oliver R. Smith to see Mr. Fabian and Mr. Tanner of the Utah Parks Commission.

9. It was suggested that if the Parowan home were paid for, we could give it to the State of Utah and then they would be forced to take an action, either accepting the gift or rejecting it. Action was tabled until the payments are completed so a gift could be made.

10. Oliver R. Smith showed a form for an envelope for returning funds to M. W. Smith. He suggested that a letterhead with names of officers (and perhaps others) be printed up for purposes of special letters to family members in a position to make a substantial contribution. The expenditure for the letterheads and envelopes and the mailing was authorized. It was also approved that the letter should be sent out over the signature of Don Mack Dalton and Oliver R. Smith. Oliver was going to prepare the copy of the letter and send it to each officer for suggestions and approval.

11. Don Mack Dalton was asked to include in his letter to Dr. A. Marion Smith a notice that all of the officers of last year would be included on the letterhead as committee members for fund raising in this special appeal. If any objected to being included, they were to be asked to notify Don Mack.

12. After discussion, it was decided that Oliver would include information in the letter that one family had pledged an amount equal to $10.00 for each adult descendant of Jesse N. Smith. Other families are urged to do at least that much.

13. A letter was read from L. Wickliffe Smith regarding the proposed reunion in August. He indicated that the John Bushman family was having their reunion on August 10. Because there are a large number involved in both families, he felt badly about the conflict.

14. In order for the Board of Directors to get acquainted with the charter and the by-laws, Robert J. Smith was asked to get xerox copies for each of the members, and they will be passed on to successors in office.

15. A vote of thanks and confidence was voted to Ruth, Oliver and M.W. for the work which was being done on the Kinsman. Ruth was asked to be excused from this Board Meeting, since she is visiting with Earl and family in Merced, and Janet and family in Modesto, California, for a few days. Ruth is to be notified by way of the minutes that the Kinsman will not carry any appeal for funds for awhile to give the special letters a chance to do the job. Don Mack was thanked for his many efforts in behalf of the family.

16. Several items were suggested for consideration and preparation for the next meeting:

- a. Republication of the Jesse N. Smith Journal.
- b. A stronger organization of students at BYU
- c. Study of the charter and by-laws.

17. Refreshments of cake and juice were served by Geneve Dalton.

Prayer: M. W. Smith

Adjournment was at 9:45 p.m.

Robert J. Smith, Secretary.

RECOLLECTIONS OF FATHER, by NATALIA SMITH FARR,
Daughter, Aunt Augusta

Father would come walking into the house and say, "Are you all serene?"

I early began to take note of his prayers, which always asked our Heavenly Father to "bless us with food and raiment and an abundance of Thy Spirit. Temper the earth and the elements for the good of Thy people. May good fellowship and love abound in the earth and may we all be heirs in Thy Celestial Kingdom".

I believe we were the happiest kids on earth and is it any wonder---with so many Mothers and such a great Father. We never knew what it was to knock at each other's homes. We were welcome and at home in each of them. We milked our cows in the same big barn, got our flour from the same bin and our 'taters from the same 'tater cellar. We even carried our water up the path from the same well.

Thinking now about that old path, I feel like it was holy ground where a worthy man's foot-steps tread. I can hear now his foot fall on the old wooden bridge over the ditch that separated the two homes. It was years after his death before we could accustom ourselves to his not coming for his day at "our house".

The idea occurred to me that maybe if I think about him every day, I will never forget how he looked and acted and worked. Most of all, how he read and studied constantly and never sat idly for a moment, nor ever had time to sleep in his chair. I remember his kindly voice and assuring smile, his eye that closed slightly when he looked too closely at something. His fine posture was impressive as he sat at his desk. When we got rowdy in our play, he would say, "What in thunder are you doing?"

People came to him from far and near for counsel and advice. When the outlaws whipped a neighbor and drove off the people's cattle for Forestdale, he had to settle that too.

A rider came from St. Johns to tell him the dam had gone out. I don't know which dam--- they lost so many, but I heard the message and knew that harder times were in store for the people.

Father's desk was in Aunt Emmy's front room. I always wanted to inspect his stamp box, touch personal belongings like his sealing wax, notarial seal, pens, and that pen wiper with its green felt, crinkled edge.

Once or twice it fell my lot to go to St. Joseph to Conference at melon time, in the old white-top, with Pa driving Peach and Sis. Six hours on that road was good time. Whenever Father left "our house" to go to another home, we would all kiss him goodbye.

Our large family parties in the old log house were made happy with a big dinner and program. The long table with its snow white cloth; Aunt Em's baked beans; Aunt Janet's roast pork; Aunt Gusty's squash pie and Aunt Emmy's usual contributions of good things finished the luscious picture. Father surely married four excellent cooks. At the program, we younger children sang "Papa's Birthday is the Best of all the Year," composed by Aunt Della.

When springtime came, we would find Father with his saw pruning the apple orchard between Aunt Em's and our house. He took special care of his apple trees and owned an apple juicer and made apple juice for his family and friends. When we heard him start to saw the tree limbs we knew it was the time to start begging to go barefoot. We would say, Ma, it is warm, can we go barefoot?" She would say, "Ask your Father," and then when we would ask him, he would say, "Is your Ma willing?"

There really wasn't anything Father couldn't do. He rode a horse well; had a pair of forceps and pulled teeth for the family and neighbors.

When Father was taking Mother and Aunt Emmy and families from Parowan, Utah to Arizona, they made a dry camp one night and the family all knelt down and prayed that when Pa went out with his buckets, that he would be led to the right place for water. He was gone for awhile, and Bashie and Walter decided to go find him, little realizing the danger. Their Mothers were busy so did not notice they had gone. They walked and walked, and saw Father coming with water. He said, "Where are you going?" They replied, "After you." He put his buckets down, took them in his arms in that lonely wilderness and kissed and blessed them. When they returned to camp, all were confused wondering where the two little children were. Father told them he was about to take the opposite direction coming back, but was led to the children by a strong impression.

Time will never erase the influence for good that this great man and on his family. He was a philosopher, a psychologist and a worthy man. I am grateful for the wonderful memories I have of my Father.

A BRIEF TRIBUTE TO THE LIVING SONS AND DAUGHTERS-IN-LAW OF JESSE N. SMITH.

One of the very most import decisions a person makes in this life is the choice of a husband or wife. Rember what care Abraham and the Lord used in selecting a mate for Isaac, who would be suitable to become the ancestress of the chosen, covenant people. Re-read Genesis, Chapter 24. Note especially the last verse: "And Isaac brought her (Rebekah) into his Mother, Sarah's tent, and took Rebekah, and she became his wife; and he loved her....."

You see love properly follows marriage, and increases with the years. So has it been in the family of the Smiths. Our in-laws have identified themselves with our family hopes and with our heritage. They have given vigor and high quality to the descendants of Jesse N. Smith.

We have six living Aunts and one Uncle who come under this category to whom I wish to pay tribute. For all their loving years of faithful service, I thank them. For their exemplary lives, I honor them. For their gentle personalities, I love them.

Let us salute the remaining living in-laws of the first generation from Jesse N. Smith. Here are their names:

Pauline Udall Smith, wife of Asahel Henry
 Nellie Hansen Smith, wife of Don Carlos
 Ernestine Hansen Smith Hurst, wife of Elias
 Phosia Humphrey Smith, wife of George Albert
 May Hansen Smith, wife of Aikens
 Cleone Olsen Smith, wife of M. Foss C.
 John R. Blocker, husband of Myrtle

Written by M. W. Smith

P.S.

It has been suggested that we have short biographies of all fifteen of our living Uncles and Aunts in our future Kinsman. We'll start off with the oldest living child, Uncle Hyrum.

E. Cecil McGavin has written a book entitled, "The Family of Joseph Smith".

There is a page (45) with reference to the Prophet's valiant cousin, Jesse N., which I would like to print in the kinsman for all the family to read.

Quote: The members of the Smith family who joined the Church never ceased to yearn for their kindred who had remained in New York and Illinois. In his patriarchal blessing, Jesse Nathaniel was promised by his Uncle John:

"Thou art the son of my brother and thou has no Father to bless thee...Thou shalt assist thy brother in bringing thy relatives into the Church...And the prayers of thy Father shall not be in vain, for he shall bring all his children to him, and reign over them with his companions to all eternity."

To what extent this blessing was fulfilled, we do not know. Perhaps this is Sanford's (Silas) and Jesse Nathaniel's special calling in the spirit world. Also, their descendants will surely help fulfill this promise by their missionary efforts, for the descendants of the Smith family are many, scattered throughout the United States.

Jesse Nathaniel Smith was very successful in business, in colonizing, in missionary work, and in presiding in various Church capacities. He filled a successful mission to the 'land of the midnight sun', and later returned there as President of the Scandinavian Mission. For many years, he served as President of the Snowflake Stake in Arizona---a position which one of his descendants occupies at the present time.

He left a more numerous posterity even than his brother. His first wife, Emma West, bore him four sons and five daughters. In 1953, the living descendants of this marriage numbered 9 children, 105 grandchildren, 283 great-grandchildren, 521 great-great grandchildren, 60 great-great-great grandchildren, a total of 988---almost one thousand!

His second wife, Margaret West, had two children. She died eight years after their marriage.

His third wife, Janet Johnson, was the Mother of thirteen children, only one of whom was a son! In 1953, the total number of living descendants of this union numbered 624.

His fourth wife, Augusta Outzen, was the Mother of eleven children. Their descendants in 1953 numbered 293.

His fifth wife, Emma Larson, became the Mother of nine children. This family in 1953 numbered 106.

In that year, the family published "The Journal of Jesse N. Smith", which contains more than 3,000 names of his descendants and kindred. Unquote

It is interesting to note that in 15 years, Grandfather's estimated posterity has increased 100%---hitting in the area of 6,000 descendants now! RUE

NEWS ITEMS

As this issue goes to press, I want to include a message from my Mother today, concerning the Pot Luck Party the Salt River Valley Kinsmen held June 17, in Mesa. Evidently it was a resounding success, with lots of good food, fun and merriment. With an auction of a rug, quilt and sheep, the fund raising project on the Parowan House HAD to be a profitable venture. Sounds great, and we'll follow suit this summer in Provo. RUE Sadness has struck the Frost Family this past month. Madalynne (Grand-dau.Aunt Editha) and Elton Faler have received word that their oldest son, Allen Lee, was killed in Viet Nam. Allen Lee is a grandson of Jesse and Dorothy Frost. He was 21 years old and at the present, his family lives in Wyoming. The Falers formerly lived in Provo. We as kinsmen would appreciate any further information we can receive concerning this tragedy in our family, and wish to express our sorrow at this time.

You who subscribe to the Deseret News undoubtedly noted the article in the Church Section concerning the Jesse N. Smith Home in Parowan, and its restoration. Unfortunately this moment, I can't locate the clipping which I saved, but there will be another month to publish the write-up for the benefit of those who didn't read about it. A picture was shown of the house in its restored form, and a resume of Grandfather's life was given, as well as the early hardships those sturdy pioneers endured to open up the frontiers of the church in the 1850's.

It's a pleasure to receive such nice bits of correspondence from kinsman around the world. Virginia Bushman Acheson writes that the descendants of Preston A. Bushman will gather this summer over the 4th of July week-end in San Diego (sponsored by the Achesons) and invites the relatives to join with them.

I have had several acknowledgements that Grandfather Smith's Birthday was Dec. 2., (Which I have known since I was six), and I apologize for the typographical error on the final draft. Joseph Flake mentioned what LDS should-be-genealogy seekers have in common with the Klu-Klux-Klan----of all things: "GET IN YOUR SHEETS!!" Also I regret that I left out the name of one of the Boone boys, but did copy it straight from the BYU Alumni quarterly. Thanks for keeping us on our toes!! RUE

Thanks to Derryfield Smith for the list of addresses of his immediate family. We wish to acknowledge letters this month from Margaret S. Sevey, Jesse S. Shumway; Virgil Smith, who is moving from Louisiana to Spanish Fork, Utah; Wilford Rogers, Seraphine S. Frost,

S. Lorenzo Rogers, Ara Jean A. Hiatt, Mauretta B. Thomas, Emma B. Dexter; Lorana Fish Mineer; Gerda Flake and others of whom I'm not appraised. Thanks for your love and support in our efforts to keep the family paper "rolling".

Gerda Flake wrote telling of the fire in Snowflake, wherein the old Seminary Bldg. was destroyed. Also Cheralyn Smith, who is back in Provo attending summer school, just filled me in on some of the details over the phone. The old gym (cafetorium) was being razed and some of the trash was being burned, when an 80 mile an hour wind arose and spread the flames in all directions. The Snowflake, Holbrook and ShowLow fire departments answered the call, but still the loss was great. Cheralyn said it was a miracle that her Mother's (Edna's) home was spared as fires had started on the roof. Also John Ballard was a hero in that he climbed on top of the Academy and put out the fires there. The whole town turned out enmasse to help fight the fire. One side of the new enclosed swimming pool was charred, so its dedication has been postponed. Cheralyn said most of the records were saved from the building, which was used as the school's Administration Bldg. Memories are vivid of childhood days when those two buildings were erected in the early 30's, and the townsite won't seem the same without them. That particular block has been plagued with fire before in that the original academy was destroyed by fire about the turn of the century. (I've seen pictures of the rock walls standing after the fire). Knowing the progressive community that Snowflake is, it won't take long to restore necessary facilities to serve the needs at hand, due to this loss. RUE
